

LTTS awarded global services deal from Sweden's Dometic Group

LTTS opens a dedicated Global Engineering Center for Dometic in Chennai as part of the engagement

Chennai, February 24, 2020: L&T Technology Services Limited (BSE: 540115, NSE: LTTS), a leading global pure play engineering services company, today announced that it has been awarded a multi-year engineering services engagement from Dometic, a global leader in branded solutions in the mobile living space.

As part of the engagement, LTTS opened a dedicated Global Engineering Center (GEC) in Chennai, to complement Dometic's product engineering roadmap. The GEC will bring in capabilities to design and develop best in class products for Dometic's global clientele. The center will support mechanical, embedded and connectivity areas across product lines, technologies and regions.

Dometic has also partnered with LTTS for transformation of their Product Lifecycle and to set up a Center of Excellence for testing & validation of products. The core objective of LTTS' engineering services proposition is to accelerate Dometic's time to market and support its exciting product roadmap.

Commenting on the development, Dr. Anton Lundqvist, CTO, Dometic said, "Our ambitious growth plan includes new product and market areas, more focus on aftermarket and closer co-operation with our current and new supply base. This will require a new and more dynamic way of working to reduce our time to market. We also see rapid changes in the marketplace, new generations with new expectations, connected products and related services, power and energy with electrical vehicles, renewable energy and general demand for sustainable products. To meet these new demands, we are pleased to partner with LTTS as we aim to leverage from the company's globally acclaimed engineering services and multi-vertical expertise."
