Chairman's Message

Dear Shareholders,

The global economic landscape today is being shaped by geopolitical developments and evolving trade dynamics. Yet, amidst these complexities, we see a wealth of opportunities. At the heart of navigating these shifting tides lies technology and engineering, enabling industries to adapt, innovate and achieve sustainable growth.

L&T Technology Services (LTTS) is the L&T Group's expression of engineering and technology excellence to the world. As we chart client success journeys across a gamut of 'smart,' 'complex,' and 'first-of-its-kind' programs, the contributions of the over 24,000 LTTSites stand out.

Since taking over as the Chairman at the last Annual General Meeting, I feel that LTTS today is poised to further scale its offerings across its three focused segments. We are leveraging our core engineering capabilities to go deeper, cross-pollinating solutions and offerings across industries.

Our commitment to excellence is reflected in a robust performance trajectory across the Company's three focus segments — Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech. With an industry-leading repeat business success rate and sustained expansion into new areas, LTTS is now a USD 1.3 Billion revenue company.

LTTS also acquired Intelliswift, a Silicon Valley-based provider of software product development, platform engineering and AI to further strengthen its offerings.

During the fiscal year, LTTS strengthened its position as the ER&D industry bellwether, recording ₹106,701 Million in revenues, a growth of 10.6% y-o-y. The EBIT for the year came in at ₹15,872 Million, at a margin of 14.9%, while net income was ₹12,667 Million. Amidst ongoing uncertainties across sectors, your Company's performance reflects its importance in the overall technology and engineering ecosystem.

Engineering New Frontiers

LTTS is the engineering services arm of the L&T Group. I am proud of the emergence of LTTS as India's largest technology and engineering consulting company, outpacing industry growth rates in the past few years. Your Company continues to set new benchmarks across the world stage, combining core engineering expertise with unmatched client-centricity — cornerstones of the parent group. LTTS has an impressive innovation engine, with its patent filings growing four-fold to 50 patents every quarter, taking the total to beyond 1500 during the financial year.

Since taking over as the Chairman at the last Annual General Meeting, I feel that LTTS today is poised to further scale its offerings across its three focused segments. We are leveraging our core engineering capabilities to go deeper, cross-pollinating solutions and offerings across industries. Your Company's successes, further witnessed by record-high deal bookings in Q4, are a testament to the commitment and vision that the LTTS team is driving in this direction.

Driving Mobility, Scaling Sustainability, Enabling Tech

As an organization, we take pride in being the engineering company of choice for both our customers and employees worldwide. To do justice to the evolving stakeholder expectations we had reorganized and simplified the operating structure of the Company into three standalone segments — Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech. Each segment has a clearly defined approach to value maximization.

Within its Mobility segment, LTTS is engineering intelligent and connected mobility for safer and personalized user experiences. Your Company occupies a leadership position in Electrification and Hybrid Tech and has bolstered its position in Software-Defined Mobility with the launch of the LTTSiDriVe™ framework for next-gen automotive technologies. The framework has invited significant interest among clients.

With evolving demand patterns defining the global landscape, LTTS is investing in Silicon Engineering, Device and Platform Engineering, and Systems Integration to unlock new value streams across client products and services.

In the Sustainability segment, LTTS is enabling smart and responsible products and production for clients' plant and manufacturing facilities. Our RefineryNext and FactoryNext™ and frameworks have strengthened the Company's Plant Modernization and Industrial Automation programs, bringing greater IT/OT convergence, ensuring enhanced operational efficiencies, and enabling energy transition through smart platforms and factory modernization.

In the Tech segment, your Company is driving chip-to-cloud, pervasive intelligence journeys leveraging AI and next-gen technologies across the entire product lifecycle to enable smarter decision-making and enhanced end-user experiences. With evolving demand patterns defining the global landscape, LTTS is investing in Silicon Engineering, Device and Platform Engineering, and Systems Integration to unlock new value streams across client products and services.

The reorganization has helped sharpen your Company's focus on delivering cutting-edge solutions and offerings to its global clientele by doubling down on the segments and expanding its offerings base in each of the areas. Originally identified basis discussions and feedback from LTTS' global clientele, the move has garnered significant support in the marketplace, with multiple large deal wins across each of the segments during the year.

The approach is strengthened by our mantra of Purposeful. Agile. Innovation — defining our commitment to our clients, employees, and stakeholders worldwide.

Responsible Commitment: The LTTS Way

We continue to strengthen our focus on our people, with the new strategic center at Vadodara and planned expansions across major delivery hubs in Chennai and Mysuru. The sustained upskilling and cross-skilling of our engineers at these expanded facilities, leveraging the LTTS' Global Engineering Academy (GEA), is at the fore of this vision. Partnerships with global technology leaders in key areas like AI, Agentic AI, Software-Defined Everything (SDx), and cybersecurity, are also vital as we grow.

LTTS' industry-leading stance across breakthrough technologies is reaffirmed by leading analysts, including ISG, Zinnov, HFS, and the Everest Group.

Our growing fraternity of women engineers is playing a pivotal role in this with their unique approach to innovation, out-of-the-box thinking, and core engineering excellence. The Company's diversity quotient has been recognized by the CII, which ranked LTTS as one of the Top 25 Companies Excelling in Women in STEM.

Our employee-centricity is further highlighted in the official recognition of LTTS as a Great Place to Work™ in the United States for the second time in a row, and in Japan for the first time ever. As a life-long member of the wider L&T family, I remain confident that we will emerge stronger here with our industry-leading policies and practices.

Our primary focus is on scaling engagements with premier global clients while enhancing their core businesses. LTTS is committed to deepening these relationships and broadening their scope to include new and untapped avenues of growth.

Along with sustainable and responsible business expansion, LTTS remains dedicated toward fostering a culture of care, trust, and continuous learning. This commitment is evident in our CSR initiatives, which address critical issues like water resource management, healthcare access, and skill development for underserved communities. Our efforts continue to have a positive impact on millions of lives nationwide, establishing LTTS as a company driven by meaningful societal contributions.

I thank you, our shareholders, for your continued trust and faith in us. As new technologies emerge and macro conditions evolve, on behalf of my colleagues on the Board and the LTTS family, allow me to reassure you that we remain committed toward ensuring our joint success over the days to come.

With best wishes for a prosperous, technology-enabled tomorrow.

CEO and Managing Director's Message

Dear Shareholders,

FY25 is a testament of LTTS' resilience and foresight. Amidst a year of global uncertainties, accelerated technology cycles, and supply chain disruptions, we successfully anticipated the evolving requirements of our clients and took decisive steps to reaffirm LTTS as their trusted engineering and technology services partner.

To align with emerging market needs and co-create value with our customers, we restructured the organization into three principal segments — Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech — which simplified the organizational structure, leading to more agility and seamless cross-pollination of ideas and technologies.

LTTS today is a 24,000 plus organization, ranked among the Top 3 pure-play ER&D companies worldwide, and we continue to expand our global footprint across technologies and sectors.

Doubling down on our strategic approach of “Go Deeper to Scale,” each segment has been formulated in close consultation with our clients and other key stakeholders. With its distinctive set of offerings for a specialized global clientele, each LTTS segment promises an enhanced customer lifecycle success paradigm.

The reorganization led to LTTS achieving notable milestones despite the external uncertainties. Your Company crossed ₹10,000 Crore in revenues, propelled by record high deal bookings in the second half of the fiscal. Overall, in FY25, LTTS recorded Industry leading revenue growth of 10.6%, driven by demand across our focus segments.

Propelled by its robust strategy and resilient operations, your Company is now a USD 1.4 Billion revenue run-rate organization and is on track toward the goal of USD 2 Billion in revenues in the medium term. LTTS today is a 24,000 plus organization, ranked among the Top 3 pure-play ER&D companies worldwide, and we continue to expand our global footprint across technologies and sectors.

It was a proud moment for our overseas operations when LTTS officially became recognized as a Great Place to Work™ in the U.S. for the second year in a row and in Japan for the first time ever.

We also finalized our latest acquisition, of Silicon Valley-based Intelliswift, in Q4 FY25. Following a rapid integration journey, implemented in record time, I am confident that this would further allow us to expand our core capabilities toward addressing new markets and client challenges across untapped, service-led sectors.

Going Deeper to Scale

Our “Go Deeper to Scale” strategy underscores an unwavering commitment toward ensuring global client success while driving the continuous transformation of LTTS into a more focused, integrated, and streamlined ER&D services leader. Your Company remains dedicated to solidifying its position as the strategic partner of choice across every phase of the Customer Life Cycle Journey in its focus segments. This commitment is reflected in the launch of several new solutions during the year, including LTTSiDriVe™ (Mobility) for next-gen automotive technologies, FactoryNext™ Framework (Sustainability) to create smart and energy-efficient factories, and GENIQ (Tech), an AI-powered software development platform. LTTS will continue to unlock new value streams through its world-class digital assets, state-of-the-art labs, and multi-domain expertise, deliver innovative, end-to-end solutions for a growing global clientele.

As India’s first and largest pure-play engineering and technology services provider, with growth rates consistently ahead of the industry, LTTS’ operational excellence and value creation model has continued to set new benchmarks. The momentum, amidst a global economic landscape marked by uncertainties and a marked demand softening, was led by the Tech segment, followed closely by Mobility and Sustainability. We are scaling each individual segment, treating it like a distinct unit with its own unique differentiators and clientele. In terms of geographical presence, North America continues to contribute the larger share, at the same time we have seen double digit growth from both Europe and India geographies, which augurs well for our diversified global presence.

As we step into FY26, I feel that the global technology landscape will be redefined by a renewed focus on AI and Automation. The demand for cutting-edge AI-led solutions and Software-Defined Everything is set to surge, a scenario that LTTS' engineers and technologists are ready to leverage. Combined with the accelerated large deal bookings momentum witnessed during FY25, especially in Q4 FY25, we expect that FY26 will be a better year than FY25.

The EBIT margin for FY25 was at 14.9%, a reflection of our continued commitment toward ensuring scalable and reliable operational performance. The Board of Directors has announced a final dividend of ₹38 per share, representing a dividend pay-out ratio of 46% for the year. At 22%, our ROE continues to be a consistent hallmark of our robust growth journey.

Complementing shareholder value creation is LTTS' intense focus on innovation which has seen us file over 1,500 patents to date, of which 190 are in AI technologies. We have continued to strengthen our industry-leading momentum of filing over 50 patents per quarter – a four-fold jump in both total and AI-related patent filings – underscoring a sustained culture of innovation across the LTTS ecosystem. All of this has been made possible by the passion and invaluable contributions of our talented employees as changemakers.

As we continue to grow, our engineers remain our greatest strength. This year, we aim to amplify our efforts through the Global Engineering Academy, advancing upskilling and reskilling in emerging technologies, and through Project Rendezvous 4.0, bolstering our core innovation strengths to further enhance our global Great Place To Work recognition. Your Company continues to expand its state-of-the-art infrastructure across Vadodara, Chennai, and Mysuru, empowering our engineers to leverage best in class technologies and facilities. Initiatives like WomenInTech, which highlight the work done by LTTS' growing community of women engineers and expanded CSR programs will further solidify our commitment to building an inclusive, impactful future.

Engineering the Future: With Purposeful. Agile. Innovation.

In H2 of FY25, we repositioned LTTS to align closely with how we intend to continue driving the next frontiers of technology excellence. An extensive exercise, involving key stakeholders across customers, industry peers, and employees, was undertaken to derive the core tenets that would define how LTTS delivers on its commitment to its global customers.

Derived from the core ideals of our Vision Mission Values charter, we defined this as Purposeful. Agile. Innovation.

Purposeful action, dedicated toward building a sustainable tomorrow and a better world by leveraging technology to drive inclusive growth for all stakeholders, constitutes the spear point of our razor-sharp focus. Being Agile refers to LTTS' ability to learn, evolve, and adapt across emerging technologies and market dynamics, harnessing the imagination and passion of our engineers in unlocking robust value journeys for customers across industries. And Innovation is at the heart of our endeavors – from investing in emerging technologies to creating world-class solutions.

Taken together, Purposeful. Agile. Innovation, therefore, defines LTTS' commitment to excellence as the engineering partner of choice for global clients across its focus segments of Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech.

The positive impact of this formulation is already evident in our performance for the year, marked by an accelerated large deals momentum with the highest ever TCv bookings. We closed on several major large deals including a marquee USD 80 million net new engagement in the Sustainability segment. The list includes three USD 50 to 80 Million, five USD 30 to 50 Million, and ten USD 15 to 25 Million deal wins across segments, backed by a robust-multi geography pipeline.

Celebrating All-Round Excellence

During the fiscal year, several of our customers and leading global ER&D industry titans were recognized at the Third Edition of the Digital Engineering Awards for their groundbreaking engineering and technology innovations. Over 210 entries spanning our three segments were received across nine categories from leading figures in emerging digital technologies. The submissions were rigorously evaluated by an independent peer-group panel spearheaded by ISG, with CNBC TV18 as the media partner, and culminated in an electrifying Award finale in Dallas, Texas, USA.

Established in the previous fiscal, the LTTS Advisory Council continued to play a lead role in helping us stay aligned with market insights, client experiences, and stakeholder expectations. The peer group of technology pioneers, business leaders, and industry experts continued to gather during the year to share their viewpoint in helping refine LTTS' vision and roadmap for the future. We remain grateful for their support and contributions toward enabling us in driving scale, sharpening focus, and setting new standards of sustainable excellence.

Your Company's achievements and transformative contributions continued to be recognized by leading analyst firms and industry bodies. We were positioned as Leader by Everest Group across Connected Product Engineering, Industry 4.0, and Sustainable Engineering Services, and were ranked as a Market Leader by HFS among leading global IoT Service Providers. Zinnov rated us as a Leader in its Digital Engineering and ER&D Services Study, while ISG recognized LTTS as a Leader in Digital Engineering Services 2025.

LTTS' robust diversity quotient was also recognized across leading platforms, with CII honoring your Company as one of the Top 25 Companies Excelling in Women in STEM, 2024. The sustained flow of high ratings and recognitions is a clear indication of our continuing commitment toward sustained excellence across all areas of operation.

LTTS believes in the importance of industry-academia collaboration for unveiling the next big innovation journey. We partnered with the NMICPS TiHAN Foundation, IIT Hyderabad, for fostering advancements in Advanced Driver Assistance Systems (ADAS) and Cellular Vehicle-to-Everything (CV2X) communication. And TECHgium®, our premier open innovation challenge and the nation's largest hackathon for engineering students, saw over 39,000 registrations this year from 566 participating institutes.

On behalf of my colleagues and the global LTTS family, we thank you for your support and encouragement as we continue engineering a technology-enabled future with Purposeful. Agile. Innovation.

Message from the Senior Management Team

Dear Shareholders,

Just before the start of FY25, we undertook a close survey of global conditions amidst the continued rise of breakthrough technologies and sustained macro uncertainties. Your Company, after extensive discussions and conversations within its global stakeholder ecosystem, undertook a strategic realignment of its business along three focus segments — Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech. Each segment, with its distinctive set of offerings, promises a more robust customer lifecycle journey.

In conjunction with our Go Deeper to Scale strategy, the repositioning has been one of the key factors in record-high deal bookings witnessed during H2 of FY25, and we are confident of the momentum continuing in FY26. ## MATERIALITY ASSESSMENT

Identifying What Matters Most

Our approach to identifying the top material issues arises from acknowledging the importance of creating value for all our stakeholders and assimilating their interests and expectations to frame strategic input for our business operations.

Materiality Determination Process

Materiality determination at LTTS is a comprehensive process entailing an internal process combined with external benchmarking with peers and global sustainability standards. This helps us understand issues relevant to our stakeholders over the short, medium, and long term. At the same time, we acknowledge that determining material issues is not static and evolves dynamically with time. It depends on the growth of our organization and stakeholder expectations.

Determination Process

- 1 Identifying a universe of relevant ESG topics based on previous material issues, peer reviews, sectoral benchmarking, media scans, and material topics identified by leading ESG frameworks and rating agencies (GRI, MSCI, EcoVadis, CDP, and DJSI's CSA weights)
- 2 Collating inputs via management surveys and C-suite interviews with representatives of our stakeholders
- 3 Analyzing responses, determining weights for stakeholder groups, categorizing themes into subtopics, and harmonizing them into a materiality matrix

Breakthrough Innovation Programs

At LTTS, we are redefining our engagement with technology and leading innovation across the ER&D sector. By launching and developing segment-leading programs, we foster a culture of innovation that drives product excellence, process advancement, and customer satisfaction. Our commitment is reflected in the platforms we provide for employees to showcase their ideas and contribute to LTTS's technological success.

Reveries

Comprising three distinct phases, Reveries embarks on a journey that fosters the cultivation of groundbreaking ideas:

Phase 1 - Dream Illumination

The participants' creative journey begins with the submission of their dreams. These dreams are evaluated based on the richness of details provided, emphasizing the importance of conveying high-level insights into the essence of the proposed idea.

Phase 2 - Shaping Visions

This phase unfolds in two stages. In the first, selected participants bring their dreams to life through presentations for an offline assessment by a panel of experts. The second stage involves the shortlisted dreams from the offline evaluation expanding on their concepts, presenting them for an online evaluation.

Phase 3 - Culmination of Innovation

The grand finale of Reveries showcases a selection of finalists from the previous presentation phases. These visionary individuals present their dreams to a distinguished panel of experienced evaluators, marking the pinnacle of their creative journey.

Reveries Timeline:

Open Hack: Unleashing Innovation at L&T Technology Services

A platform designed to foster creativity, collaboration, and technological advancement among LTTS employees, this 24-hour hackathon invites participants from various LTTS business units to transform ideas into functional prototypes, demonstrating our commitment to innovation.

Event Overview

Purpose and Format: The Open Hack is an event aimed at inspiring innovation and creating a collaborative environment for our workforce. Over 24 hours, employees collaborate across various segments and engineering domains, turning their creative concepts into tangible solutions. A separate open internet network is provided for the participants for this event.

Innovation and Collaboration: Participants are encouraged to submit proposals in any domain of interest. The event emphasizes teamwork, allowing employees to unite with peers from different backgrounds to enrich the innovation process.

During the year, the Open Hack was organized at the LTTS Mysuru, Chennai, and Vadodara locations.

TechExpression

Aimed at fostering collaboration among technologists, practitioners, engineers, and business enablers, this program stands as a beacon of innovation at LTTS. TechExpression comes with a two-fold objective. First, it provides a platform for employees to showcase their technical prowess by crafting innovative solutions to industry-specific engineering challenges. Second, it doubles as an opportunity for LTTS employees to enhance their written and verbal communication skills.

The anticipated outcomes of TechExpression are diverse and impactful. Participants have the chance to create Proofs-of-Concept (PoCs), pilots, and solutions that can redefine industry norms. The potential to secure patents and contribute to technical publications and thought leadership further underscores the program's value. Beyond these tangible rewards, TechExpression bolsters employee motivation, while also identifying and nurturing talent and subject matter experts.

Navigating the Program: A Four-Phase Approach

TechExpression's roadmap is structured into four distinct phases, each tailored to bring out the best in participants and their ideas.

Phase 1: Ideation and Conceptualization

In this foundational phase, employees are invited to submit abstracts containing their innovative ideas, limited to 150 words. These ideas can be geared towards existing challenge statements within the program or entirely new problem statements proposed by participants.

Phase 2: Evaluation and Shortlisting

Idea presentations are meticulously evaluated by domain subject matter experts in an offline setting. The cream of the crop moves forward to an online evaluation, where presenters will pitch their ideas to a panel of jurors. This phase serves as a pivotal bridge between ideation and validation.

Phase 3: Proving the Concept

The shortlisted presenters from the online jury presentation are given four weeks to transform their ideas into PoCs. These concepts are then demonstrated to the jury panel, adding a practical dimension to the innovation journey.

Phase 4: The Grand Finale

The culmination of TechExpression comes in the form of a grand finale, where the shortlisted concepts are showcased.

Event Flow:

Project Equinox

Equinox is an initiative launched to nurture and foster the development of early-stage ideas from various innovation programs into tangible, testable outcomes in the form of proofs-of-concept (POCs) or prototypes. The project symbolizes the equilibrium between creative exploration and structured progress, providing a supportive environment where nascent ideas can mature.

The primary goal of Equinox is to give ideas “room to breathe” — allowing them to evolve through experimentation, refinement, and validation over a defined 6-month timeline. By offering funding, mentorship, and resources, the program aims to bridge the gap between ideation and practical realization, enabling participants to explore the full potential of their concepts.

Equinox is built on the belief that great ideas need time and freedom to mature. This program encourages risk-taking and exploration, accepting that while not all projects will succeed, each will yield valuable insights. It serves as a sandbox for creativity with a clear endpoint, balancing open-ended discovery with disciplined execution. Successful POCs or prototypes may transition to Business Units/functions that may wish to continue the outcome for their business / customer requirements.

TECHgium®

TECHgium® is India's largest open-innovation platform, designed to inspire young engineering minds and expose them to real-world business challenges. It offers students the opportunity to collaborate with LTTS experts on cutting-edge technologies and gain industry recognition as TECHgium® innovators.

Over a nine-month period, participants work on Proofs-of-Concept (PoCs) under expert guidance, with the top 36 teams selected as finalists. These teams present prototypes to a jury comprising industry leaders, academicians, and analysts. The top three winners are celebrated for their standout innovations.

Celebrating groundbreaking engineering talent, this year's event broke records with over 39,000 registrations from over 560 engineering institutes across India, a nearly six-fold growth since its inception in 2016.

With new innovations in Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech segments, TECHgium® has solidified its role as both a hub for innovation and a bridge between academia and the industry.

Global Engineering Academy: Strategizing Technical Excellence

The Global Engineering Academy (GEA) was established in 2020 to support LTTS' strategic business objectives. The Academy envisions being a compelling "Business Partner" of choice, cultivating a strong service-oriented mindset, and delivering value through advanced technology education. It provides comprehensive technical education and competency development programs to the employees.

Further, GEA's structured engineering and technology education integrated with scalable systems, processes, and state-of-the-art facilities is a strategic differentiator for LTTS. Simultaneously, continuous upskilling and domain knowledge are prioritized to ensure engineers stay updated with the latest technologies — and ultimately — deliver exceptional solutions to our clients.

Extending Collaboration of Engineering Excellence: LTTS Marks a Decade with Siemens

On December 23, 2024, LTTS' ten-year collaboration with Siemens Digital Industries Software (DISW) unveiled a new chapter of expansion that will enhance their Center of Excellence (CoE) and time-to-market quality for clients. The aspiration is to drive innovation — by leveraging Siemens' digital technology platforms — through creating integrated digital twins for performance, plants, and products.

Moreover, there will be organized client workshops to brainstorm, showcase innovations, and highlight the tangible advantages of digital transformation for customers. Such "Techday" sessions will enrich collaboration and serve as knowledge platforms.

Synergizing Strengths: Digital Manufacturing Academy

The expanded alliance features a major output — a Digital Manufacturing Academy that will train engineers in Siemens' core technologies. In collaboration with the LTTS Global Engineering Academy (GEA) and prominent universities, it will strengthen project execution and delivery capabilities. The Academy will serve as a testament to LTTS' commitment toward equipping its workforce with advanced skills to leverage and adapt to digital transformation.

AVATAR: LTTS Culture Journey

Project Avatar is a transformative initiative that aims to define, institutionalize, and deploy the LTTS Culture Manifesto, which includes the organization's culture, vision, mission, and values. The structured intervention clearly defines and promotes values and the associated behaviours that LTTS stands for. The Culture Manifesto has been communicated to over 15,000 employees through in-person and online sessions.

The goal is to build cohesiveness among every LTTSite about a culture embedded with values and behavioral expectations in the employee life cycle. This includes hiring, performance expectations, leadership development, and rewards and recognition. The initiative's success will be measured by its sustainability, gauged by a positive "needle movement" in culture, identified through culture audits, feedback, and data analysis.

ALTUM: Succession Planning Framework

Career progression is a significant aspect of employee growth at LTTS. Last year, we introduced a structured succession planning program, Altum, showcasing our unwavering commitment to our employees' progression.

As part of Altum, we have implemented "Executive Coaching," wherein handpicked industry veterans from the C-suite work with key leadership talent and help them define their growth charter towards the future of inclusive and profitable growth.

We also launched a structured "Mentoring" framework across levels where in-house leaders (including CXOs) serve as Mentors and do a one-on-one mentoring exercise with identified potential talent as Mentees (encompassing the Delivery and Sales organization) over a year-long period.

As part of this framework, Mentees go through personality assessment tools like the Hogan Assessments and the Thomas Personal Profile Analysis to gain insights into their individual working preferences and behavioural styles. One-on-one debrief sessions are aligned to take the Mentees through the outcomes. During the mentoring journey, Mentees define two to three goals in line with the business strategy and their career aspirations.

Meanwhile, the Leaders League framework enables the career progression of identified talent, contributing to substantial internal fulfilment of leadership positions.

ASCENT: Building Future Sales Leaders

ASCENT aims at identifying and mentoring aspiring employees with excellent domain knowledge, high competence, and passion to pursue a career in sales. It also develops and nurtures internal talent while offering clear, ambitious career paths and progression opportunities.

Lighthouse

Lighthouse is an initiative that facilitates mentoring for young and aspiring women by senior women leaders in the organization. It provides them an opportunity to connect in meaningful ways with someone whose experience can help them navigate their careers, and empower their professional development and personal growth.

External Tie-Ups and Partnerships

Star Squad

The Star Squad program is dedicated to identifying and nurturing high-potential individuals with a strong interest in project management, providing them with essential support and growth opportunities.

For us, it is essential to create avenues for the skilled talent pool to serve as mentors, coaches, and assessors to evaluate the potential of emerging top talent entering the Leaders League. This year, we have developed an internal assessor pool and conducted over 400 Behavioural Event Interviews (BEI).

Leaders across all levels are actively mentoring participants in their leadership journey, supporting them in their experiential learning projects, and significantly contributing to the implementation of their personalized development plans across various modules.

Key Objectives

Expanding the Talent Pool: By enrolling more high-potential individuals, the program aims to increase its capacity by 20%. This involves identifying individuals with the potential to excel in project management and keen on pursuing a managerial trajectory.

Engaging and Retaining Top Talent: The Star Squad program achieves this by offering focused development opportunities and exposure to high-potential individuals.

Ecosystem Restoration

Engaging Indigenous Community Members

Partner

Junglescapes

We embarked on two transformative initiatives — Kaadu and Vanam — dedicated to ecosystem restoration that breathes new life into Karnataka's cherished forests. The Kaadu project revives degraded forest patches within Bandipur National Park, while Vanam restores vitality to the Billigiri Ranganathaswamy Tiger (BRT) Reserve by replacing invasive species with thriving native ones.

By removing invasive species like Senna, Lantana, and Eupatorium and nurturing native biodiversity, these projects stand as a blueprint for resilience and a call to action for preserving our natural heritage. Additionally, biochar was produced from the Lantana and Eupatorium biomass and used in the restored plots for soil enrichment. Beyond restoration, these initiatives cultivate hope by empowering Indigenous communities through active engagement and sustainable livelihoods.

Promoting a Circular Economy (Contd.)

Converting Polymer Scraps into a Valuable Product

Partner

Direct Implementation

This initiative creates awareness of the importance of recycling and reducing plastic consumption. Recycling plastic reduces the need for virgin raw materials, conserves energy, and minimizes waste going to landfills, contributing to a more sustainable product and environment.

At LTTS, materials tested for mechanical properties at our Material Test Center are disposed of as scrap after testing. We decided not to scrap these engineering polymers conventionally through scrap vendors, since this could lead to landfill accumulation, further causing environmental pollution.

These granules, comprising engineering polymers, come in multiple types of grades. We built the tool, Injection Mold, to mold the part. Accordingly, activities like cleaning, sorting, shredding, processing, and converting the polymer scraps into a plant vase-cum-pen stand were done in an in-house facility.

Procurement Support and More

Paving the Way for Inclusivity and Sustainability

2. Business Environment

The BCG-NASSCOM ER&D report expects the global ER&D industry to grow at almost 9% CAGR between 2023 and 2030, signaling enhanced spend intensity across industries. This momentum is being led by a projected 12-13% growth in software and allied offerings including Software-Defined Everything (SDx), 10-11% rise in demand for telecommunications, and 9-10% expansion in the semiconductor domain. Subsequently, we are witnessing accelerated investments journeys across key areas, including Automotive, Industrial Products, and Hi-Tech.

With the continued growth in demand for digital transformation initiatives, combined with a growing focus on sustainability and innovation, market leaders like LTTS are well poised to capitalize on the emerging opportunities. The robustness of the business environment is further characterized by the almost 22% CAGR expected for India-based off-shoring.

The automotive sector, for instance, is undergoing a significant shift with a predicted surge in electric vehicle (EV) sales, anticipated to make up 25-30% of the global automotive market by 2030. LTTS is strongly positioned here through its expertise in developing next-gen EV platforms, autonomous driving solutions, and smart manufacturing systems. Additionally, industries like aerospace and industrials are focusing on digital twin technologies, IoT implementation, and automation to streamline operations, areas where the Company has established deep competencies and capabilities.

Companies are realigning their supply chains with a clear focus on leveraging advanced engineering solutions. This includes initiatives like predictive maintenance, real-time asset performance management, and leveraging sensor-driven analytics and Industrial AI, underpinned by LTTS' multi-domain strengths and expertise. Such technological advancements are driving efficiency and reducing environmental impact, directly supporting our growth in the Sustainability segment.

However, macroeconomic challenges such as cost pressures, sustained geopolitical instability, and growing localized regulations on data sharing and technology exports may continue to pose a challenge. LTTS also faces intense competition as global ER&D spend patterns are fractured and distributed across multiple geographies.

However, the Company's commitment to a sustainability-focused, technology-led approach and sustained investments in AI/ML-driven innovation align perfectly with its clients' increasing demand for green solutions and digital reinvention. By leveraging its end-to-end engineering capabilities and a strong track record of innovation, LTTS is in a better position than before to capture increasing market share in FY 2025 amidst the dynamics of the evolving global ER&D landscape.

3. Major Achievements

Debt Equity Ratio	NA	NA
Operating Profit Margin (%)	14.9%	17.1%
Net Profit Margin (%)	11.9%	13.5%

Explanations for changes in ratios:

- Days Sales Outstanding for the year ended March 31, 2025 went up to 86 days as compared to 82 days for the year March 31, 2024, on account of an increase in Trade receivables to ₹25,126 Million as at March 31, 2025, compared to ₹21,803 Million as at March 31, 2024
- Interest Coverage ratio & Debt Equity ratio are not relevant metrics for the Company as it does not have any debt.

This change was primarily on account of strategic investments made in futuristic technologies and for strengthening leadership across newly formed segments Mobility, Sustainability, and Tech. Further, we acquired a software product and platform engineering company Intelliswift. The macroeconomic headwinds towards the end of Q4 FY25 also contributed to the margin pressure.

DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTION POLICY

INTRODUCTION

As per Regulation 43A of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, prescribed Listed Companies are required to frame a Dividend Distribution Policy.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this Policy is to regulate the process of dividend declaration and its pay-out by the Company which would ensure a regular dividend income for the shareholders and long term capital appreciation for all stakeholders of the Company.

This Policy has been adopted by the Board of Directors of L&T Technology Services Limited ('the Company') at its Meeting held on May 3, 2017. The Policy shall also be displayed in the annual reports and on the website of the Company.

FORMS OF DIVIDENDS

The Companies Act provides for two forms of Dividend:

- Final Dividend

The final dividend is paid once for the financial year after the annual accounts are prepared. The Board of Directors of the Company has the power to recommend the payment of final dividend to the shareholders for their approval at the general meeting of the Company. The declaration of final dividend shall be included in the ordinary business items that are required to be transacted at the Annual General Meeting.

- Interim Dividend

This form of dividend can be declared by the Board of Directors one or more times in a financial year as may be deemed fit by it. The Board of Directors shall have the absolute power to declare interim dividend during the financial year, as and when they consider it fit, in line with this policy. The Board should consider declaring an interim dividend after finalization of quarterly/half yearly financial results.

QUANTUM OF DIVIDEND AND DISTRIBUTION

Dividend payout in a particular year shall be determined after considering the operating and financial performance of the Company and the cash requirement for financing the Company's future growth. In line with the past practice, the payout ratio is expected to grow in accordance with the profitable growth of the Company under normal circumstances.

DECLARATION OF DIVIDEND

Dividend shall be declared or paid only out of-

- 1) Current financial year's profit:
  - a) after providing for depreciation in accordance with law;
  - b) after transferring to reserves such amount as may be prescribed or as may be otherwise considered appropriate by the Board at its discretion;
  - c) after appropriating any other item as mandated by prescribed accounting standards.
- 2) The profits for any previous financial year(s) after providing for depreciation in accordance with law and remaining undistributed; or
- 3) Out of 1) & 2) both.

The circumstances under which shareholders may not expect dividend/or when the dividend could not be declared by the Company shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

- A. Due to operation of any other law in force;

- C. Due to any restrictions and covenants contained in any agreement as may be entered with the Lenders and
- D. Because of any default on part of the company.

FACTORS AFFECTING DIVIDEND DECLARATION

The Dividend pay-out decision of any company, depends upon certain external and internal factors-

External Factors:

- Legal/Statutory Provisions: The Board should keep in mind the restrictions imposed by Companies Act, any other applicable laws with regard to declaration and distribution of dividend. Further, any restrictions on payment of dividend by virtue of any regulation as may be applicable to the Company may also impact the declaration of dividend.
- State of Business Environment: The Board will endeavor to retain larger part of profits to build up reserves to absorb future shocks in case of uncertain or recessionary economic conditions.

- Nature of Industry: The nature of industry in which a company is operating influences the dividend decision, like stability of earnings will influence stable dividend.
- Taxation Policy: The tax policy of a country also influences the dividend policy of a company. The rate of tax directly influences the amount of profits available to the company for declaring dividends.
- Capital Markets: In case of unfavorable market conditions, the Board may resort to a conservative dividend pay-out in order to conserve cash outflows and reduce the cost of raising funds through alternate resources.

Internal Factors:

Apart from the various external factors, the Board shall take into account various internal factors including the financial parameters while declaring dividend, which inter alia will include –

- Magnitude and Stability of Earnings: The extent of stability and magnitude of the company's earnings will directly influence the dividend declaration. Thus, the dividend is directly linked with the availability of the earnings (including accumulated earnings) with the company.
- Liquidity Position: A company's liquidity position also determines the level of dividend. If a company does not have sufficient cash resources to make dividend payment, then it may reduce the amount of dividend pay-out.
- Future Requirements: If a company foresees some profitable investment opportunities in near future including but not limited to Brand/Business Acquisitions,

Expansion of existing businesses, Additional investments in subsidiaries/associates of the Company, Fresh investments into external businesses, then it may go for lower dividend and vice-versa.

- Leverage profile and liabilities of the Company.
- Any other factor as deemed fit by the Board.

RETAINED EARNINGS

The portion of profits not distributed among the shareholders but retained and used in business are termed as retained earnings. It is also referred to as ploughing back of profit. The Company should ensure to strike the right balance between the quantum of dividend paid and amount of profits retained in the business for various purposes. These earnings may be utilized for internal financing of its various projects and for fixed as well as working capital. Thus the retained earnings shall be utilized for carrying out the main objectives of the Company and maintaining adequate liquidity levels.

PARAMETERS THAT SHALL BE ADOPTED WITH REGARD TO VARIOUS CLASSES OF SHARE

The Company does not have different classes of shares and follows the 'one share one vote' principle.

REVIEW & AMENDMENT

The Policy shall be reviewed as and when required to ensure that it meets the objectives of the relevant legislation and remains effective. The Board has the right to change/amend the policy as may be expedient taking into account the law for the time being in force.

a. Watershed Project

The Watershed Project, a collaboration between L&T Technology Services (LTTS) and the National Agro Foundation (NAF), addresses the urgent need for sustainable water resource management in three water-scarce villages of Chengalpattu District, Tamil Nadu. The primary goals of the project include improving water resource management, providing training and capacity building for local farmers and women's self-help groups and enhancing agricultural productivity through sustainable practices. Key interventions included the construction of check dams, percolation tanks, and field bunds, along with afforestation efforts. Training in integrated farming, livestock rearing, and agricultural techniques helped improve livelihoods in the community.

The evaluation of this project on the REESS framework covering Relevance, Effectiveness, Efficiency, Sustainability and Social impact, indicated that the projects have brought transformative change to communities in Chengalpattu district, addressing critical challenges while setting the stage for sustainable development. Through an integrated approach involving water resource management, agricultural improvement, and capacity building, the projects have boosted local economies, increased agricultural productivity, and empowered individuals. High community engagement, such as farmers investing in livestock, highlights the success of these initiatives in fostering proactive, sustainable practices. Beyond tangible achievements, the projects have cultivated a sense of ownership and self-reliance, leaving a lasting legacy of environmental stewardship and community resilience.

b. Integrated Village Development

LTTS partnered with the Aga Khan Rural Support Programme (India) [AKRSP(I)] to implement the "Integrated Village Development" project in the Dangs district, a predominantly tribal and underdeveloped region in Gujarat. Key objectives of the project include:

- Capacity building of tribal farmers through training and exposure.

- Introduction of solar mini-lifts for irrigation.
- Promotion of efficient irrigation practices like drip and rain pipe irrigation.
- Land levelling to expand cultivable land.
- Diversification of agriculture and alternative livelihoods through orchards.

The project evaluation based on the REESS framework has indicated that the introduction of solar irrigation systems, farm ponds, and advanced farming techniques has had a profound social impact on the tribal communities in The Dangs. The reliable access to water has enhanced food security, ensuring that families have a consistent supply of nutritious produce. Increased crop yields and the adoption of modern agricultural practices, such as horticulture and vegetable cultivation, have led to higher incomes for farmers. The program has empowered women, who play a significant role in agriculture. These efforts have empowered tribal farmers with modern farming techniques, fostering self-reliance and reducing inequalities. The collaboration highlights the importance of strong partnerships and community engagement in driving positive socio-economic changes.

The net movement of cashflow hedge reserve (net of taxes) recorded in other comprehensive income for the year ended March 31, 2025, amounted to ₹219 Million. In order to apply hedge accounting, management is required to demonstrate that the underlying contract is considered to be a highly probable forecasted transaction, that the hedges are effective and maintain adequate hedge documentation. A degree of subjectivity is also required to assess when hedge accounting is to be considered as ineffective. Fair value movements of the forward and option contracts are driven by movements in financial markets. # Annexure A to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the Standalone Financial Statements of L&T Technology Services Limited

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Director's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025, and are therefore, the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

2. Material accounting policies

a) Basis of accounting

These standalone financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair values or at amortised cost at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Fair value is the price that would be received on sale of an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurements are categorised as below, based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety:

- (i) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company can access at measurement date;
- (ii) Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included in level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- (iii) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the valuation of assets or liabilities.

Above levels of fair value hierarchy are applied consistently and generally, there are no transfers between the levels of the fair value hierarchy unless the circumstances change warranting such transfer.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a new accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The Company classifies an asset as current asset when:

- it expects to realise the asset, or intends to sell or consume it, in its normal operating cycle;
- it is held primarily for trading;
- it expects to realise the asset within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- the asset is cash or a cash equivalent unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when –

- it expects to settle the liability, in its normal operating cycle;
- it is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- the liability is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- it does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents. The Company's normal operating cycle is twelve month for Time & Material Project and Contract life for a Fixed Price Project.

Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

These standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") and the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and amendments thereof issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013. In addition, the guidance notes/announcements issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) are also applied except where compliance with other statutory promulgations require a different treatment. These financials statements have been approved for issue by the Board of Directors at their meeting held on April 24, 2025.

b) Presentation of standalone financial statements

The balance sheet and the statement of profit and loss are prepared in the format prescribed in schedule III to the Act. The statement of cash flows has been prepared under indirect method and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 "Statement of cash flows". The disclosure requirements with respect to items in balance sheet and statement of profit and loss, as prescribed in schedule III to the Act, are presented by way of notes forming part of accounts along with the other notes required to be disclosed under the notified Ind AS and the SEBI (Listing Obligation and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended.

Amounts in the standalone financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees in Million [1 Million = 10 lakhs] as permitted by schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Per share data are presented in Indian Rupees to two decimals places.

c) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of these standalone financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires the management of the Company to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to contingent liabilities as at the date of the standalone financial statements. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future years. The Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were prepared.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised, and future periods, if the change affects both. Information about material areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the material effect on the amounts recognised in the standalone financial statements are included in the following notes:

i) Revenue recognition: The Company applies judgement to determine whether each service promised to a customer is capable of being distinct, and is distinct in the context of the contract, if not, the promised service is combined and accounted as a single performance obligation. The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed-price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract cost. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labour costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, revenue recognised, profit and timing of revenue for remaining performance obligations are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

ii) Income taxes: The major tax jurisdictions for the Company are India and the United States of America. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.

The organization for Economic Co-operation and development has issued pillar two model rules introducing a new Global minimum tax of 15% intended to be effective from January 1st, 2024. USA and India have yet not adopted the Pillar two. We do not currently have any material operation in jurisdiction with tax rates lower than the pillar two minimum tax rate and do not expect these rules will increase our global tax cost.

iii) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences: The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligations are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

iv) Expected credit losses on financial assets: The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the expected credit loss calculation based on the Company's history of collections, customer's creditworthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

- viii) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment: The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment on a straightline basis over estimated useful lives of the assets. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation is derived based on an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technology. The estimated useful life is reviewed at least annually.

d) Functional and presentation currency

These standalone financial statements are presented in Indian rupees, which is the functional currency of the Company.

e) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the company expects to receive in exchange for those services. Revenues from customer contracts are considered for recognition and measurement when the contract has been approved by the parties to the contract, the parties to the contract are committed to perform their respective obligations, each party's rights and obligations and the payment terms can be identified, the contract has commercial substance and it is probable that the entity will collect the consideration to which it is entitled to in exchange for the services that will be transferred to the customer.

The company assesses the services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The company's contracts may include variable consideration including rebates, volume discounts and penalties. The Company includes variable consideration as part of transaction price when there is a basis to reasonably estimate the amount of the variable consideration and when it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved.

The Company allocates the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation based on the relative standalone selling price. Revenue from contracts which are on time and material basis are recognized when services are rendered, and related costs are incurred

Any change in scope or price is considered as a contract modification. The Company accounts for modifications to existing contracts by assessing whether the services added are distinct and whether the pricing is at the stand-alone selling price. Services added that are not distinct are accounted for on a cumulative catch-up basis, while those that are distinct are accounted for prospectively, either as a separate contract if the additional services are priced at the stand-alone selling price, or as a termination of the existing contract and creation of a new contract if not priced at the stand-alone selling price.

Revenue from contracts which are on time and material basis are recognized when services are rendered, and related costs are incurred.

Revenue from fixed-price contracts where the performance obligations are satisfied over time and where there is no uncertainty as to measurement or collectability of consideration, is recognized as per the percentage-of-completion method. Use of the percentage of completion method requires the Company to estimate the efforts or cost expended to date (input method) as a proportion of the total efforts or costs to be expended. The cost & efforts expended (or input) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. Estimates of total costs or efforts are continuously monitored over the term of the contracts and are recognized in the net profit prospectively in the period when these estimates change or when the estimates are revised. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on incomplete contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the estimated efforts or costs to complete the contract.

The company presents revenue net of discounts, indirect taxes and value-added taxes in its statement of profit and loss

Contracts assets are recognised when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled revenue when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms. Contract liability ("Unearned revenue") arises when there are billing in excess of revenue

f) Other income

- i. Interest income is accrued on a time basis by reference to the principal outstanding and the effective interest rate.
- ii. Dividend income is accounted for in the period in which the right to receive the same is established.
- iii. Exchange gain/loss consists of mark to market gain/loss on ineffective hedges, realized gain/loss and revaluation gain/loss on translation of foreign currency assets and liabilities
- iv. Other items of income are accounted as and when the right to receive arises and it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably.

g) Employee benefits

(i) Short term employee benefits

All employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. The benefits like salaries, wages, and short term compensated absences and performance incentives are recognized in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(ii) Post-employment benefits

a. Defined contribution plan

The Company's contribution to state governed provident fund scheme, employee state insurance scheme and employee pension scheme are classified as defined contribution plans. The contribution paid / payable under the schemes is recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

b. Defined benefit plans

The employee provident fund schemes are managed by board of trustees established by the Larsen & Toubro Limited, employees' gratuity fund schemes managed by LIC and post-retirement medical benefit scheme are the Company's defined benefit plans. The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plans is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognizes each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation, for eligible employees.

The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plans, is based on the market yields on government bonds, having maturity periods approximating to the terms of related obligations. In case of funded plans, the fair value of the plan assets is reduced from the gross obligation under the defined benefit plans to recognize the obligation on net basis.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability and the return on plan assets, are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. Other changes in net defined benefit obligation like current service cost, past service cost, gains and losses on curtailment and net interest expense or income are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

With respect to defined benefit plan for overseas employees, the Company provides for post-employment benefits payable as per the laws applicable in respective countries and the requirements of the standard, as explained above.

(iii) Compensated absences

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as other Long Term employee benefits for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the reporting date. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred. The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer the settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

h) Property, plant and equipment

a) Recognition & Measurement:

Property, plant and equipment is recognised when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost net of tax/duty credits availed, if any, less accumulated depreciation and cumulative impairment loss, if any.

Property, plant and equipment not ready for intended use on the date of balance sheet are disclosed as "capital work-in-progress".

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial statements

b) Depreciation:

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment so as to expense the cost over their estimated useful lives, based on evaluation, using straight-line method. The estimated useful lives and residual value are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Project specific assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on a straight-line basis or over the period of the license/project period, whichever is shorter.

Estimated useful life of following assets is different than useful life as prescribed under part C of schedule II of the Act.

Sr. No.	Category of asset class*	Useful life as per schedule II (in years)	Useful life adopted (in years)
1	Plant and equipment	15	12
2	Air-conditioner	15	12
3	Canteen equipment	15	8
4	Laboratory equipment	10	6
5	Computers	3 – 6	3 - 5
6	Office equipment	5	>1 – 4
7	Vehicles	8	7
8	Furniture and Fixtures	10	10
9	Electrical Installations	10	10

With respect to non-removable leasehold improvements, if the lease term of the related lease is shorter than the useful life of those leasehold improvements, the Group considers whether it expects to use the leasehold improvements beyond that lease term. If the Group does not expect to use the leasehold improvements beyond the lease term of the related lease, then the useful life of the non-removable leasehold improvements is the same as the lease term. If the Group expects to use the non-removable leasehold improvement beyond the lease term, the group generally depreciates such leasehold improvements over its expected useful life.

If the useful life of the leasehold improvements is shorter than the lease term, the group generally depreciates such leasehold improvements over its expected useful life.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

*The useful lives for these assets are different from the useful lives as prescribed under part C of schedule II of the Act. Based on technical evaluation, the management believes that the useful lives as given above best represents the period over which the management expects to use these assets.

PPE is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period.

i) Intangible assets and amortisation

Intangible assets are recognised when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the Company and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

Intangible assets purchased are measured at cost (net of tax/duty credits availed, if any) or fair value as of the date of acquisition, as applicable, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment, if any.

Intangible assets are amortised on straight-line basis over their estimated useful life as given below. The method of amortisation and useful life are reviewed at the end of each financial year with the effect of any changes in the estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Asset class	Useful life (years)
Specialised software	3 – 6
Technical knowhow	4
Customer contracts and relationships	4
Tradename	1

j) Goodwill

Goodwill that has been recognised through merger/ amalgamation transactions is not amortised; however, it is tested for impairment on an annual basis. Refer note k (ii) for accounting policy on impairment of assets.

k) Impairment of assets

i) Trade receivables

The Company uses an expected credit loss Model (ECL) to determine impairment loss on portfolio of its trade receivable. The ECL Model is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivable and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. In making this assessment, the Company has considered current and anticipated future economic conditions relating to industries/ business verticals that the company deals with and the countries where it operates.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial statements

ii) Non-financial assets

Tangible and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets (other than goodwill) are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Impairment is determined for goodwill by assessing the recoverable amount of each CGU (or group of CGUs) to which the goodwill relates. When the recoverable amount of the CGU is less than its carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised. Impairment losses relating to goodwill cannot be reversed in future periods.

i) Leases

Ind AS 116 "Leases" sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors.

The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception comprises of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred.

The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the lease term life of right-of-use asset.

At the commencement date of the lease, the Company recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Company and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Company exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The company has elected not to recognize assets and liabilities for (a) short-term leases (for a period of twelve months or less) and (b) leases of low value assets. For these short-term and low value leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

The Company recognises the amount of the remeasurement of lease liability as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances.

m) Financial instruments

Financial assets and/or financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes party to a contract embodying the related financial instruments. All financial assets, financial liabilities and financial guarantee contracts are initially measured at transaction price and where such price is different from fair value, at fair value. However, for trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are initially measured at transaction price. Transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from, as the case may be, the fair value of such financial assets or liabilities on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in profit or loss.

(i) Non-derivative financial assets

a. Financial assets at amortised cost

Debt Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Financial assets at amortised cost are represented by trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, employee and other advances and other eligible current and non-current financial assets.

b. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Debt Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting and selling contractual cash flows that give rise on specified dates to solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

c. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless it is measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in profit or loss.

(ii) Non-derivative financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are initially recognised at fair value, and subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within 1 year from balance sheet date, the carrying amount approximate fair value due to short maturity of these instruments.

(iii) Derivative financial instrument

The Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward contracts and options to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to profit or loss, except for the effective portion of cash flow hedges, which is recognised in other comprehensive income and later reclassified to profit or loss when the hedge item affects profit or loss (see below).

Cash flow hedge

The Company designates foreign exchange forward & options contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks. These hedges are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

The Company uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company which are approved by the Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract.

The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis.

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the designated hedging instrument is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedge reserve. The amount accumulated in other comprehensive income is reclassified to statement of profit or loss as reclassification adjustment in the same period or periods during which the hedged cash flows affect profit or loss. The ineffective portion of designated hedges are recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity and is recognised in statement of profit and loss when the forecasted transaction ultimately affects the profit or loss. When a forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss accumulated in equity is transferred to the statement of profit and loss.

(iv) De-recognition

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109 "Financial Instruments". A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the Company's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

n) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, balance with banks, deposits held at call with financial institutions and other deposits with original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

o) Employee stock option scheme

Employees of the Company receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (equity-settled transactions).

The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model. That cost is recognised as employee benefits expense with a corresponding increase in Employee Share Option reserves in equity, over the period in which the service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

Service conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of awards, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. No expense is recognised for awards that do not ultimately vest because the service conditions have not been met.

p) Foreign currencies

The functional currency of the Company is Indian rupee.

Income and expenses in foreign currencies are recorded at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date and exchange gains and losses arising on settlement and restatement are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated.

q) Income-tax

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognized in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company and its branches in India and overseas. The current tax payable by the Company in India is Indian income tax payable for their worldwide income after taking credit for tax relief available for export operations in Special Economic Zones (SEZs).

Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying units intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial statements

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

For operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

The Company offsets deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities if and only if it has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which is likely to give future economic benefits in the form of availability of set off against future income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognized as deferred tax asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realized.

The Company recognizes interest levied related to income tax assessments in interest expenses.

r) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized for liabilities that can be measured only by using a substantial degree of estimation, if

- i) The Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event;
- ii) A probable outflow of resources is expected to settle the obligation; and
- iii) The amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated

Contingent liability is disclosed in the case of

- i) A present obligation arising from a past event when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; or

- ii) A possible obligation unless the probability of outflow of resources is remote

Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed.

Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

s) Statement of cash flows

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The Company segregate the cash flows in operating, investing and financing activities.

t) Investment in subsidiaries

Investments in subsidiaries are measured at cost as per Ind AS 27 - Separate Financial Statements.

u) Earnings per equity share

Basic earnings per equity share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average numbers of the equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders of the Company and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Diluted earnings per equity share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per equity share and the weighted average number of equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

v) Common Control Business combination

Business combinations involving entities that are controlled by the company or ultimately controlled by the same party or parties both before and after the business combination, and where control is not transitory, are accounted for using the pooling of interests method as follows:

- The assets and liabilities of the transferred division/ Company are reflected at their carrying amounts immediately prior to the transfer
- No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets or liabilities. Adjustments are only made to harmonise accounting policies
- The financial information of the transferred division/ Company in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination, however, where the business combination had occurred after that date, the prior period information is restated only from that date.

The difference, if any, between consideration paid in the form of issue of share capital or cash or other assets and the amount of share capital (if any) of the transferor shall be transferred to capital reserve and should be presented separately from other capital reserves. Share capital issued will be recorded at nominal value.

w) Accounting and reporting information for operating segments

Ind AS 108 establishes the manner in which Companies should report information about operating segments and related disclosures about products and services, geographic areas, and major customers. The Company's operations predominantly relate to providing end-to-end business solutions to enable clients to enhance business performance. The Company evaluates performance and allocates resources based on an analysis of various performance indicators by business segments. Accordingly, information has been presented along business segments. The accounting principles used in the preparation of the financial statements are consistently applied to record revenue and expenditure in individual segments and are as set out in the accounting policies.

Revenue and identifiable operating expenses in relation to segments are categorized based on items that are individually identifiable to that segment. Certain expenses such as depreciation, which form a significant component of total expenses, are not specifically allocable to specific segments as the underlying assets are used interchangeably. The management believes that it is not practical to provide segment disclosures relating to those costs and expenses, and accordingly these expenses are separately disclosed as "unallocated" and adjusted against the total income of the Company.

Assets and liabilities used in the Company's business are not identified to any of the reportable segments, as these are used interchangeably between segments, and it is not practicable to provide segment disclosures relating to total assets and liabilities.

- x) All amounts included in the standalone financial statements are reported in Millions of Indian rupees (₹ in Millions) except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated. Due to rounding off, the numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures. Previous year figures have been regrouped/ rearranged, wherever necessary.

3. Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, MCA has not notified any new standards or amendments that are applicable or may have a material impact to the Company.

Note on Goodwill Impairment Testing

Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or when events or circumstances indicate that an impairment loss may have occurred. For the impairment test, goodwill is allocated to the cash generating unit ("CGU") or groups of CGUs which benefit from the synergies of the acquisition and which represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes (which is generally at the operating segment level or the largest group of identifiable CGUs below an operating segment). A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets.

Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is determined based on higher of value-in-use and fair value less cost to sell. The calculation of value in use involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which include long-term growth rates, operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, discount rate and future economic & market conditions. If the recoverable amount of cash generating unit (CGU) is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of CGU is reduced to its recoverable amount and resultant impairment loss is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

The allocation of goodwill to operating segments as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 is as follows:

Segment	(₹ in Million)
	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Mobility	-	-
Sustainability	-	-
Tech	4,277	4,277
Balance at the end of the year	4,277	4,277

Notes:

- Effective from April 1, 2024, the Operating Segments have been reorganized by the Group to streamline its organizational structure from five to three segments i.e. Mobility, Sustainability and Tech. Goodwill arising from previous acquisitions has been reallocated in line with the change in operating segment.
- Goodwill amounting to ₹4,277 Million which was previously /monitored at Hi-tech communications and media level, which was a separate operating segment in the previous year and now part of Tech operating segment, continues to be monitored at this level the current year in i.e. largest group of identifiable CGUs below an operating segment.

The key assumptions used for the calculations are as follows:

Particulars	(₹ in Million)
	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Long-term growth rate	2%	2%
Operating margin	10% - 13%	10% - 13%
Discount rate	13%	13%

As at March 31, 2025, the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU exceeded its carrying amount. Reasonable sensitivities in key assumptions is unlikely to cause the carrying amount to exceed the recoverable amount of the cash generating units.

Fixed price contracts:

Fixed price arrangements with customers have defined delivery milestones with agreed scope of work and pricing for each milestone. Revenue from fixed-price contracts, where the performance obligations are satisfied over time and when there is no uncertainty as to measurement or collectability of consideration, is recognised as per the 'percentage-of-completion' method. When there is uncertainty as to measurement or ultimate collectability, revenue recognition is postponed until such uncertainty is resolved. Percentage of completion is determined based on the project costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated project costs required to complete the project. The input method has been used to measure the progress towards completion as there is direct relationship between input and productivity. Estimates of total costs or efforts are continuously monitored over the term of the contracts and are recognized in the net profit prospectively in the period when these estimates change or when the estimates are revised. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on incomplete contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the estimated efforts or costs to complete the contract.

Time and materials contracts:

Revenue from time and material contracts are recognised as and when services are rendered to the customer. These are based on the efforts spent and rates agreed with the customer.

This policy also provides flexibility of fund raising options for future, which is especially important in times of global economic volatility.

38. Financial risk management

i) Market risk management

The Company regularly reviews its foreign exchange forward and option positions, both on a standalone basis and in conjunction with its underlying foreign currency related exposures. The Company follows cash flow hedge accounting for highly probable forecasted exposures (HPFE) hence the movement in mark to market (MTM) of the hedge contracts undertaken for such exposures is likely to be offset by contra movements in the underlying exposures values. However, till the point of time that the HPFE becomes an on-balance sheet exposure, the changes in MTM of the hedge contracts are accumulated in the balance sheet of the Company. The Company manages its exposures normally for a period of up to three years based on the estimated exposures over that period. As the period increases, the cash flows hedged as a percentage of the total expected cash flows diminish, as there is increased uncertainty of the total cash flows materializing over a longer period of time. The recognition of the gains and losses related to these instruments may not always coincide with the timing of gains and losses related to the underlying economic exposures and, therefore, may adversely affect the Company's financial condition and operating results. Hence, the Company monitors the potential risk arising out of the market factors like exchange rates, interest rates, price of traded investment products etc. on a regular basis. For on balance sheet exposures, the Company monitors the risks on net un-hedged exposures.

ii) Price risk management

The Company's investment policy and strategy are focused on preservation of capital and supporting the Company's liquidity requirements. The Company uses a combination of internal and external management to execute its investment strategy and achieve its investment objectives. The Company typically invests in money market funds, under a limits framework which governs the credit exposure to any one issuer as defined in its investment policy. To provide a meaningful assessment of the price risk associated with the Company's investment portfolio, the Company performed a sensitivity analysis to determine the impact of change in prices of the securities that would have on the value of the investment portfolio assuming a 0.25% move in debt funds and debt securities. Based on the investment position a hypothetical 0.25% change in the fair market value of debt securities would result in a value change of +/- ₹9.36 Million as of March 31, 2025, and +/- ₹12.07 Million as of March 31, 2024. The investments in money market funds are for the purpose of liquidity management only and are held only overnight and hence not subject to any material price risk.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial statements

iii) Foreign currency risk management

In general, the Company is a net receiver of foreign currency. Accordingly, changes in exchange rates, and in particular a strengthening of the Indian Rupee, will negatively affect the Company's net sales and gross margins as expressed in Indian Rupees.

The Company may enter into foreign currency forward contracts with financial institutions to protect against foreign exchange risks associated with certain existing assets and liabilities, certain firmly committed transactions, forecasted future cash flows and net investments in foreign subsidiaries. The Company's practice is to hedge a portion of its material net foreign exchange exposures with tenors in line with the projected exposure based on future business growth. However, the Company may choose not to hedge certain foreign exchange exposures for a variety of reasons, including but not limited to accounting considerations and the prohibitive economic cost of hedging particular exposures. The Company may also not hedge 100% given the uncertainty with business projections and hence the exposure gets hedged progressively in lower amounts.

To provide a meaningful assessment of the foreign currency risk associated with the Company's foreign currency derivative positions against off balance sheet exposures and unhedged portion of on-balance sheet exposures, the Company uses a multi-currency correlated value-at-risk ("VAR") model. The VAR model uses a Monte Carlo simulation to generate thousands of random market price paths for foreign currencies against Indian rupee taking into account the correlations between them. The VAR is the expected loss in value of the exposures due to overnight movement in spot exchange rates, at 95% confidence interval. The VAR model is not intended to represent actual losses but is used as a risk estimation tool. The model assumes normal market conditions and is a historical best fit model. The overnight VAR for the Company at 95% confidence level is ₹275 Million as of March 31, 2025 and ₹173 Million as of March 31, 2024.

Actual future gains and losses associated with the Company's investment portfolio and derivative positions may differ materially from the sensitivity analyses performed as of March 31, 2025 due to the inherent limitations associated with predicting the timing and amount of changes in foreign currency exchanges rates and the Company's actual exposures and position.

iv) Credit/counter-party risk management

The principal credit risk that the Company is exposed to is non-collection of trade receivables and late collection of receivables leading to credit loss. The risk is mitigated by reviewing creditworthiness of the prospective customers prior to entering into contract and post contracting, through continuous monitoring of collections by a dedicated team.

The Company reviews trade receivables on periodic basis and makes provision for doubtful debts if collection is doubtful. The Company also calculates the expected credit loss (ECL) for non-collection and for delay in collection of receivables. The Company makes additional provision if the ECL amount is higher than the provision made for doubtful debts. In case the ECL amount is lower than the provision made for doubtful debts, the Company retains the provision made for doubtful debts without any adjustment.

The provision for doubtful debts including ECL allowances for non-collection of receivables and delay in collection, on a combined basis, was ₹180 Million as at March 31, 2025 and ₹146 Million as at March 31, 2024. The movement in allowances for doubtful accounts comprising provision for both non-collection of receivables and delay in collection is as follows:

	(₹ in Million)
	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Opening balance of allowances for doubtful accounts	146	248
Allowances recognized (reversed)	34	(102)
Closing balance of allowances for doubtful accounts	180	146

The percentage of revenue from its top five customers is 17% for 2024-25 (15% for 2023-24).

The counter-party risk that the Company is exposed to is principally for financial instruments taken to hedge its foreign currency risks. The counter-parties are mainly banks and the Company has entered into contracts with the counterparties for all its hedge instruments.

The Company invests its surplus funds in liquid investments and mitigates the risk of counter-party failure by investing with institutions having good credit rating.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial statements

v) Liquidity risk management

The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities and by having access to funding through an adequate amount of committed credit lines.

Management regularly monitors the position of cash and cash equivalents vis-à-vis projections. Assessment of maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities including debt financing plans and maintenance of balance sheet liquidity ratios are considered while reviewing the liquidity position.

The Company has no borrowings as on March 31, 2025 but it has credit facilities with banks that will help it to generate funds for the business if required. The contractual maturities of financial assets and financial liabilities is as follows:

(₹ in Million)

An explanation of each level follows underneath the table.

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Total financials liabilities	-	362	-	362	-	66	-	66

Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 - Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

There were no transfers between the levels during the year.

The Company's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

(ii) Valuation technique used to determine fair value

Specific valuation technique used to value financial instruments include :

- The use of quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments
- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts and principal swap is determined using forward exchange rates at the balance sheet date.

(iii) Valuation processes

The finance department of the Company includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes, including level 3 fair values. The fair valuation of level 1 and level 2 classified assets and liabilities are readily available from the quoted prices in the open market and rates available in secondary market respectively. The valuation method applied for various financial assets and liabilities are as follows -

- Quoted price in the primary market (net asset value) considered for the fair valuation of the current investment i.e mutual funds. Gain/(loss) on fair valuation is recognised in statement of profit and loss.
- The carrying amounts of trade receivable, unbilled revenue, trade payable, cash and bank balances, short term loans and advances, statutory dues/receivable, short term borrowing, employee dues are considered to be the same as their fair value owing to their short-term nature.
- The fair value of premium receivable on financial guarantee contract is derived by discounting premium receivable over the period of contract. Thereafter, the same is carried at the amount initially recognised less the cumulative amortisation of income over the period of the contract.
- The fair value of non-current security deposits are calculated by discounting future cash inflows.

(iv) Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortised cost:

The carrying amounts of all financials assets and financial liabilities are considered to be the same as their fair values owing to their short term nature.

Annexure A to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the Consolidated Financial Statements of L&T Technology Services Limited

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

2. Material accounting policies

a) Basis of accounting

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Fair value is the price that would be received on sale of an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurements are categorised as below, based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety:

- (i) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Group can access at measurement date;
- (ii) Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included in level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- (iii) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the valuation of assets or liabilities.

Above levels of fair value hierarchy are applied consistently and generally, there are no transfers between the levels of the fair value hierarchy unless the circumstances change warranting such transfer.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a new accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

Current/ Non-current classification

The Group classifies an asset as current asset when:

- it expects to realise the asset, or intends to sell or consume it, in its normal operating cycle
- it is held primarily for trading
- it expects to realise the asset within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- the asset is cash or a cash equivalent unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when:

- it is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- it is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents. The Group’s normal operating cycle is twelve month for Time & Material Project and Contract life for a Fixed Price Project.

Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

These Consolidated Financial Statements (“CFS”) have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”) and the Indian Accounting Standards (“Ind AS”) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, amendments thereof issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013, (Ind AS compliant Schedule III), as applicable to the CFS. These consolidated financial statements have been approved for issue by the Board of Directors at their meeting held on April 24, 2025.

b) Presentation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated balance sheet and the consolidated statement of profit and loss are prepared in the format prescribed in the schedule III to the Act. The consolidated statement of cash flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows". The disclosure requirements with respect to items in consolidated balance sheet and consolidated statement of profit and loss, as prescribed in the schedule III to the Act, are presented by way of notes forming part of accounts along with the other notes required to be disclosed under the notified Ind AS.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Amounts in the consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees in Million [1 Million = 10 lakhs] as permitted by schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Per share data are presented in Indian Rupees to two decimals places.

c) Use of estimates and judgement

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the management to make judgments, accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Accounting estimates are monetary amounts in the consolidated financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty. An accounting policy may require items in consolidated financial statements to be measured at monetary amounts that cannot be observed directly and must instead be estimated. In such a case, management develops an accounting estimate to achieve the objective set out by the accounting policy. Developing accounting estimates involves the use of judgements or assumptions based on the latest available and reliable information. Actual results may differ from those accounting estimates.

Accounting estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Changes to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are changed and in any future periods affected. Information about material areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgements in applying accounting policies that have the material effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are included in the following notes:

i) Revenue recognition: The Group applies judgement to determine whether each service promised to a customer is capable of being distinct, and is distinct in the context of the contract, if not, the promised service is combined and accounted as a single performance obligation. The Group uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed-price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract cost. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labour costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, revenue recognised, profit and timing of revenue for remaining performance obligations are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

ii) Income taxes: The major tax jurisdictions for the Group are India and the United States of America. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.

The organization for Economic Co-operation and development has issued pillar two model rules introducing a new Global minimum tax of 15% intended to be effective from January 1st, 2024. USA and India have yet not adopted the Pillar two. We do not currently have any material operation in jurisdiction with tax rates lower than the pillar two minimum tax rate and do not expect these rules will increase our global tax cost

iii) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences: The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligations are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

iv) Expected credit losses on financial assets: The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Group uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the expected credit loss calculation based on the Group's history of collections, customer's creditworthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

d) Functional and presentation currency

These consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian rupees, which is the functional currency of the Group.

e) Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Parent Company and its subsidiaries on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. All intra-group assets, liabilities, income, expenses and unrealised profits/losses on intra-group transactions are eliminated on consolidation. The accounting policies of subsidiaries have been harmonised to ensure the consistency with the policies adopted by the Parent Company, for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. The consolidated financial statements have been presented to the extent possible, in the same manner as Parent Company's standalone financial statements.

Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Specifically, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

- Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee)
- Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and
- The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary.

The financial statements of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to same reporting date as that of the parent, i.e., year ended on 31 March. When the end of the reporting period of the parent is different from that of a subsidiary, the subsidiary prepares, for consolidation purposes, additional financial information as of the same date as the financial statements of the parent to enable the parent to consolidate the financial information of the subsidiary.

Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the consolidated balance sheet, consolidated statement of profit and loss, consolidated statement of changes in equity respectively.

f) Common control business combination

Common control Business combination:

Business combinations involving entities that are controlled by the company or ultimately controlled by the same party or parties both before and after the business combination, and where control is not transitory, are accounted for using the pooling of interests method as follows:

- The assets and liabilities of the transferred division/ Company are reflected at their carrying amounts immediately prior to the transfer
- No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets or liabilities. Adjustments are only made to harmonise accounting policies
- The financial information of the transferred division/ Company in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination, however, where the business combination had occurred after that date, the prior period information is restated only from that date.
- The difference, if any, between consideration paid in the form of issue of share capital or cash or other assets and the amount of share capital (if any) of the transferor shall be transferred to capital reserve and should be presented separately from other capital reserves. Share capital issued will be recorded at nominal value.

Business combination – Acquisition Method: Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date. Acquisition-related costs are expensed in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received.

The Group determines that it has acquired a business when the acquired set of activities and assets include an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired, and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

- Deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax.
- Liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date.

When additional payments contingent on future events are negotiated and agreed as part of the business combination agreement, the entity analyses the nature as well as economic substance of these payments, particularly, payments made to those who remain as employees of the business after it is acquired, to determine whether these whether they are in the nature of payment for future employee services or they represent contingent consideration for business combination. In the former case, depending on the exact terms of the arrangement, the payments to be made are accounted for as remuneration for services to be received after the acquisition, rather than as part of the consideration paid for the business.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer, i.e., contingent payment to be treated as such, is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability that is a financial instrument and within the scope of Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss in accordance with Ind AS 109. If the contingent consideration is not within the scope of Ind AS 109, it is measured in accordance with the appropriate Ind AS and shall be recognised in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured at subsequent reporting dates and subsequent its settlement is accounted for within equity. If the changes to the consideration are the result of additional information about the facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date, they are considered as measurement period adjustments and accounted for as discussed in measurement period section below.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for non-controlling interests (if any), and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted through goodwill during the measurement period, or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognized at that date. These adjustments are called as measurement period adjustments. The measurement period does not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

g) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Group expects to receive in exchange for those services. Revenues from customer contracts are considered for recognition and measurement when the contract has been approved by the parties to the contract, the parties to the contract are committed to perform their respective obligations, each party's rights and obligations and the payment terms can be identified, the contract has commercial substance and it is probable that the entity will collect the consideration to which it is entitled to in exchange for the services that will be transferred to the customer.

The Group assesses the services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The Group's contracts may include variable consideration including rebates, volume discounts and penalties. The Group includes variable consideration as part of transaction price when there is a basis to reasonably estimate the amount of the variable consideration and when it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Group allocates the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation based on the relative standalone selling price.

Any change in scope or price is considered as a contract modification. The Group accounts for modifications to existing contracts by assessing whether the services added are distinct and whether the pricing is at the stand-alone selling price. Services added that are not distinct are accounted for on a cumulative catch-up basis, while those that are distinct are accounted for prospectively, either as a separate contract if the additional services are priced at the stand-alone selling price, or as a termination of the existing contract and creation of a new contract if not priced at the stand-alone selling price.

Revenue from contracts which are on time and material basis are recognized when services are rendered, and related costs are incurred.

Revenue from fixed-price contracts where the performance obligations are satisfied over time and where there is no uncertainty as to measurement or collectability of consideration, is recognized as per the percentage-of-completion method. Use of the percentage of completion method requires the Group to estimate the efforts or costs expended to date (input method) as a proportion of the total efforts or costs to be expended. The cost & efforts expended (or input) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. Estimates of total costs or efforts are continuously monitored over the term of the contracts and are recognized in the net profit prospectively in the period when these estimates change or when the estimates are revised. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on incomplete contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the estimated efforts or costs to complete the contract.

The Group presents revenue net of discounts, indirect taxes and value-added taxes in its statement of profit and loss

Contracts assets are recognised when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled revenue when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms. Contract liability ("Unearned revenue") arises when there are billing in excess of revenue.

h) Other income

- a) Interest income is accrued on a time proportion basis by reference to the principal outstanding and the effective interest rate.
- b) Dividend income is accounted for in the period in which the right to receive the same is established.
- c) Exchange gain/loss consists of mark to market gain/loss on ineffective hedges, realized gain/loss and revaluation gain/loss on translation of foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities
- d) Other items of income are accounted as and when the right to receive arises and it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably.

i) Employee benefits

i) Short term employee benefits

All employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. The benefits like salaries, wages, and short term compensated absences and performance incentives are recognized in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

ii) Post-employment benefits

a) Defined contribution plan:

The Group's superannuation fund and state governed provident fund scheme are classified as defined contribution plans. The contribution paid / payable under the schemes is recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which the employee renders the related service. Employer's contribution payable for oversees employees with respect to social security plans, which are defined contribution plans, is charged to the statement of profit and loss in the period in which employee renders the services.

b) Defined benefit plans:

The provident fund scheme managed by board of trustees established by the Larsen & Toubro Limited, employee's gratuity fund scheme managed by LIC and post-retirement medical benefit scheme are the Group's defined benefit plans. Intelliswift's gratuity benefit scheme is a defined benefit plan and it is non funded. Intelliswift's gratuity benefit scheme is a defined benefit plan and it is non funded. The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plans is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognizes each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation, for eligible employees.

The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash-flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plans, is based on the market yields on government bonds, having maturity periods approximating to the terms of related obligations. In case of funded plans, the fair value of the plan assets is reduced from the gross obligation under the defined benefit plans to recognize the obligation on net basis.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability and the return on plan assets are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. Other changes in net defined benefit obligation like current service cost, past service cost, gains and losses on curtailment and net interest expense or income are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

With respect to defined benefit plan for overseas employees, the Group provides for post-employment benefits payable as per the laws applicable in respective countries and the requirements of the standard, as explained above.

iii) Compensated absences:

The group treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as other long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the reporting date. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred. The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer the settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

j) Property, plant and equipment (PPE)

a) Recognition & Measurement:

Property, plant and equipment is recognised when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost net of tax/duty credits availed, if any, less accumulated depreciation and cumulative impairment loss, if any.

Subsequent expenditure relating to Property Plant and Equipment is capitalized only if such expenditure results in an increase in the future benefits from such asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

PPE not ready for intended use on the date of balance sheet are disclosed as "capital work-in-progress".

b) Depreciation:

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment so as to expense the cost over their estimated useful lives, based on evaluation, using straight-line method except for Intelliswift Software (India) Private Limited where written- down value method is used. The estimated useful lives and residual value are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Project specific assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on a straight-line basis or over the period of the license/project period, whichever is shorter.

Estimated useful life of following assets is different than useful life as prescribed in schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Sr. No.	Category of asset	Useful life as per schedule II (in years)	Useful life adopted (in years)
1	Plant and equipment	15	12
2	Air-condition	15	12
3	Canteen equipment	15	8
4	Laboratory equipment	10	6
5	Electrical installations	10	10
6	Computers	3 – 6	3 -5

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

7	Office equipment	5	> 1 – 4 & 5-10 for acquired Business
8	Furniture and fixtures	10	7- 10 & 5 for acquired business
9	Vehicles	8	7 & 5-10 for acquired Business

With respect to non-removable leasehold improvements, if the lease term of the related lease is shorter than the useful life of those leasehold improvements, the Group considers whether it expects to use the leasehold improvements beyond that lease term. If the Group does not expect to use the leasehold improvements beyond the lease term of the related lease, then the useful life of the non-removable leasehold improvements is the same as the lease term. If the Group expects to use the non-removable leasehold improvement beyond the lease term, the group generally depreciates such leasehold improvements over its expected useful life.

If the useful life of the leasehold improvements is shorter than the lease term, the group generally depreciates such leasehold improvements over its expected useful life.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

*The useful lives for these assets are different from the useful lives as prescribed under part C of schedule II of the Act. Based on technical evaluation, the management believes that the useful lives as given above best represents the period over which the management expects to use these assets.

PPE is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period.

k) Intangible assets and amortisation

Intangible assets are recognised when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the Group and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

Intangible assets purchased are measured at cost (net of tax/duty credits availed, if any), less accumulated amortisation and cumulative impairment, if any.

Intangible assets are amortised on straight-line basis over their estimated useful life as given below. The method of amortisation and useful life are reviewed at the end of each financial year with the effect of any changes in the estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Asset class	Useful life (in years)
Specialised software	3-5
Technical knowhow	4
Customer contracts and relationships	4
Tradename	1

l) Impairment of assets

i) Trade receivables

The Group uses an expected credit loss model to determine impairment loss on portfolio of its trade receivable. The ECL model is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivable and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.

ii) Non-financial assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets (other than goodwill) are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Impairment is determined for goodwill by assessing the recoverable amount of each CGU (or group of CGUs) to which the goodwill relates. When the recoverable amount of the CGU is less than its carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised. Impairment losses relating to goodwill cannot be reversed in future periods.

m) Leases

Ind AS 116 "Leases" sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors.

The Group recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception comprises of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the lease term life of right-of-use asset

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset

The group has elected not to recognize assets and liabilities for (a) short- term leases (for a period of twelve months or less) and (b) leases of low value assets. For these short-term and low value leases, the Group recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

The Group recognises the amount of the remeasurement of lease liability as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Group recognises any remaining amount of the remeasurement in statement of profit and loss.

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Group makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances.

n) Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient, the Group initially measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under Ind AS 115

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of those financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortised cost, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

(i) Financial assets:

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (OCI), and fair value through profit or loss.

a) Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost, if these financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Financial assets at amortised cost are represented by trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, employee and other advances and other eligible current and non-current financial assets.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the profit or loss.

b) Financial assets (debt instruments) at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

Financial assets are measured at FVOCI, if these financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual term give rise on specified dates to solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. For debt instruments measured at FVOCI, interest income, foreign exchange revaluation and impairment losses or reversals are recognised in the profit or loss and computed in the same manner as for financial assets measured at amortised cost. The remaining fair value changes are recognised in OCI. Upon derecognition, the cumulative fair value changes recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to profit or loss.

Financial assets designated at FVOCI (equity instruments)

Upon initial recognition, the Group can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as equity instruments designated at FVOCI when they meet the definition of equity under Ind AS 32 "Financial Instruments: Presentation" and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis. Equity instruments which are held for trading and contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which Ind AS103 applies are classified as at FVTPL.

Gains and losses on these financial assets are never recycled to profit or loss. Dividends are recognised as other income in the statement of profit and loss when the right of payment has been established.

c) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless it is measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition (equity instruments designated at FVOCI or debt instruments measured at FVOCI). The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in profit or loss.

This category includes derivative instruments not designated in a cash flow hedging relationship and investments in mutual funds.

(ii) Financial liabilities – classification, subsequent measurement and gains and losses:

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in profit or loss. See Note 2(n)(iv) for financial liabilities designated as hedging instruments

(iii) Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency forward and option contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative. The Group designates eligible derivative contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks arising from highly probable forecasted sale in a cash flow hedging relationship. Changes in the fair value of derivatives which do not qualify for hedge accounting are recorded in statement of profit and loss.

The Group uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Group which are approved by the Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Group.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the forward contract designated in a hedging relationship is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedge reserve. The ineffective portion of designated hedges are recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss. Amount accumulated in cash flow hedge reserve is reclassified to statement of profit and loss as a reclassification adjustment in the same period or periods during which the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

The Group designates the change in intrinsic value of option contracts in a cash flow hedging relationship. The effective portion of change in the intrinsic value of option contracts is recognised in the OCI and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedge reserve. The ineffective portion of designated hedges are recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss. Change in time value of option contract are separately accounted for as cost of hedging reserve in OCI. Amount accumulated in cost of hedging reserve and cash flow hedge reserve is reclassified to statement of profit and loss as a reclassification adjustment in the same period or periods during which the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis.

When a forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss accumulated in equity is transferred to the statement of profit and loss.

If the hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting or the hedging instrument is sold, expires, is terminated or is exercised, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. The amount that has been accumulated in the cash flow hedge reserve and/or cost of hedging reserve, remains in OCI until the hedged future cash flow occurs at which time the accumulated gain/loss is reclassified to statement of profit and loss

(iv) De-recognition

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109 "Financial Instruments". A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the Group's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

o) Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, balance with banks, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

p) Employee stock option scheme

The grant date fair value of equity-settled share-based payment arrangements granted to employees is generally recognised as an employee benefits expense, with a corresponding increase in equity, over the vesting period of the awards. The amount recognised as an expense is adjusted to reflect the number of awards for which the related service conditions are expected to be met, such that the amount ultimately recognised is based on the number of awards that meet the related service conditions at the vesting date. If a grant lapses after the vesting period, the cumulative amount recognised as expense in respect of such grant is transferred to general reserve.

When the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, the minimum expense recognised by the Group is the grant date fair value of the unmodified award, provided the service conditions specified on grant date of the award are met. Further, additional expense, if any, is measured and recognised as at the date of modification, in case such modification increases the total fair value of the share-based payment plan, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee.

q) Foreign currencies

The Group's consolidated financial statements are presented in INR, which is also the parent company's functional currency. For each entity/foreign operation, the Group determines the functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Functional currency of each entity/foreign operation within the Group has been determined based on the primary economic environment in which that entity/foreign operations operate in, the currency in which funds are generated, spent and retained by that entity.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Financial statements of foreign operations whose functional currency is other than Indian Rupees are translated into Indian Rupees as follows:

- a) assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet;
- b) income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates; and
- c) all resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as foreign currency translation reserve for subsequent reclassification to profit or loss on disposal of such foreign operations. The portion of foreign currency translation reserve attributed to non-controlling interest is reflected as part of non-controlling interest.

r) Income-tax

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in deferred tax during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company and its subsidiaries. The current tax payable by the Company and its subsidiaries in India is Indian income tax payable on income. Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

The current income tax expense for overseas subsidiaries has been computed based on the tax laws applicable to each subsidiary in the respective jurisdiction in which it operates.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying units intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

For Intelliswift Business, Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted, or substantively enacted, at the reporting date where the Company operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognised directly in other comprehensive income or equity is recognised in other comprehensive income or in equity and not in the statement of profit or loss. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

The Group recognizes interest levied related to income tax assessments in interest expenses.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount. Deferred tax is not recognized for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of transaction;
- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill

Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilized.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

s) Provisions, contingent liabilities, and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized for liabilities that can be measured only by using a substantial degree of estimation, if:

- i) The Group has a present obligation as a result of a past event;
- ii) A probable outflow of resources is expected to settle the obligation; and
- iii) The amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated.

Contingent liability is disclosed in the case of

- i) A present obligation arising from a past event when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; or
- ii) A possible obligation unless the probability of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent asset is not recognised in consolidated financial statements since this may result in the recognition of income that may never be realized.

Provisions, contingent liabilities, and contingent assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

t) Statement of cash flows

Statement of Cash Flows is prepared segregating the cash flows into operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flow from operating activities is reported using indirect method adjusting the profit before tax excluding exceptional items for the effects of:

- i. changes during the period in operating receivables and payables, transactions of a non-cash nature;
- ii. non-cash items such as depreciation, provisions, unrealised foreign currency gains and losses; and
- iii. all other items for which the cash effects are investing or financing cash flows.

u) Earnings per equity share

Basic earnings per equity share is computed by dividing the consolidated net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average numbers of the equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders of the Company and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

v) The list of subsidiaries and step-down subsidiaries included in the consolidated financial statements is as under:

w) Accounting and reporting information for operating segments

Ind AS 108 establishes standards for the way that entities report information about operating segments and related disclosures about products and services, geographic areas, and major customers. The Group's operations predominantly relate to providing end-to-end business solutions to enable clients to enhance business performance. The Group evaluates performance and allocates resources based on an analysis of various performance indicators by business segments. Accordingly, information has been presented along with business segments. The accounting principles used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistently applied to record revenue and expenditure in individual segments and are as set out in the accounting policies.

Revenue and identifiable operating expenses in relation to segments are categorized based on items that are individually identifiable to that segment. Allocated expenses of segments include expenses incurred for rendering services (offsite and onsite). Certain expenses such as depreciation, which form a significant component of total expenses, are not specifically allocable to specific segments as the underlying assets are used interchangeably. The management believes that it is not practical to provide segment disclosures relating to those costs and expenses, and accordingly these expenses are separately disclosed as "unallocated" and adjusted against the total income of the Group.

Assets and liabilities used in the Group's business are not identified to any of the reportable segments, as these are used interchangeably between segments and it is not practicable to provide segment disclosures relating to total assets and liabilities.

- x) All amounts included in the consolidated financial statements are reported in Millions of Indian rupees (₹ in Millions) except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated. Due to rounding off, the numbers presented throughout the document may not add up precisely to the totals and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures. Previous year figures have been regrouped/ rearranged, wherever necessary.

3. Recent pronouncements

Note on Goodwill Impairment Testing

Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or when events or circumstances indicate that an impairment loss may have occurred. For the impairment test, goodwill is allocated to the cash generating unit ("CGU") or groups of CGUs which benefit from the synergies of the acquisition and which represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes (which is generally at the operating segment level or the largest group of identifiable CGUs below an operating segment). A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets.

Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is determined based on higher of value-in-use and fair value less cost to sell. The calculation of value in use involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which include long-term growth rates, operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, discount rate and future economic & market conditions. If the recoverable amount of cash generating unit (CGU) is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of CGU is reduced to its recoverable amount and resultant impairment loss is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

The allocation of goodwill to operating segments as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 is as follows:

Segment	(₹ in Million)
	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Mobility	403	395
Sustainability	-	-
Tech (2)	10,924	5,640
Balance at the end of the year*	11,327	6,035

Notes:

- Effective from April 1, 2024, the Operating Segments have been reorganized by the Group to streamline its organizational structure from five to three segments i.e. Mobility, Sustainability and Tech. Goodwill arising from previous acquisitions has been reallocated in line with the change in operating segment.
- Goodwill amounting to ₹10,924 Million which was previously /monitored at Hi-tech communications and media level, which was a separate operating segment in the previous year and now part of Tech operating segment, continues to be monitored at this level the current year in i.e. largest group of identifiable CGUs below an operating segment.
- Goodwill arising from acquisition of Intelliswift group amounting to ₹5,250 Million has been allocated provisionally to Tech operating segment.

The key assumptions used for the calculations are as follows:

Particulars	(₹ in Million)
	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Long-term growth rate	2%	2%
Operating margin	5% - 13%	5% - 15%
Discount rate	13%	13%

As at March 31, 2025, the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU exceeded its carrying amount. Reasonable sensitivities in key assumptions is unlikely to cause the carrying amount to exceed the recoverable amount of the cash generating units.

Fixed price contracts:

Fixed price arrangements with customers have defined delivery milestones with agreed scope of work and pricing for each milestone. Revenue from fixed-price contracts, where the performance obligations are satisfied over time and when there is no uncertainty as to measurement or collectability of consideration, is recognised as per the 'percentage-of-completion' method. When there is uncertainty as to measurement or ultimate collectability, revenue recognition is postponed until such uncertainty is resolved. Percentage of completion is determined based on the project costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated project costs required to complete the project. The input method has been used to measure the progress towards completion as there is direct relationship between input and productivity. Estimates of total costs or efforts are continuously monitored over the term of the contracts and are recognized in the net profit prospectively in the period when these estimates change or when the estimates are revised. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on incomplete contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the estimated efforts or costs to complete the contract.

Time and materials contracts:

Revenue from time and material contracts are recognised as and when services are rendered to the customer. These are based on the efforts spent and rates agreed with the customer.

36. Financial risk management

i) Market risk management

The Group regularly reviews its foreign exchange forward and option positions, both on a standalone basis and in conjunction with its underlying foreign currency related exposures. The Group follows cash flow hedge accounting for highly probable forecasted exposures (HPFE) hence the movement in mark to market (MTM) of the hedge contracts undertaken for such exposures is likely to be offset by contra movements in the underlying exposures values. However, till the point of time that the HPFE becomes an on-balance sheet exposure, the changes in MTM of the hedge contracts are accounted in the balance sheet of the Group. The Group manages its exposures normally for a period of up to three years based on the estimated exposures over that period. As the period increases, the cash flows hedged as a percentage of the total expected cash flows diminish, as there is increased uncertainty of the total cash flows materializing over a longer period of time. The recognition of the gains and losses related to these instruments may not always coincide with the timing of gains and losses related to the underlying economic exposures and, therefore, may adversely affect the Group's financial condition and operating results. Hence, the Group monitors the potential risk arising out of the market factors like exchange rates, interest rates, price of traded investment products etc. on a regular basis. For on balance sheet exposures, the Group monitors the risks on net un-hedged exposures.

ii) Price risk management

The Group's investment policy and strategy are focused on preservation of capital and supporting the Group's liquidity requirements. The Group uses a combination of internal and external management to execute its investment strategy and achieve its investment objectives. The Group typically invests in money market funds, under a limits framework which governs the credit exposure to any one issuer as defined in its investment policy. To provide a meaningful assessment of the price risk associated with the Group's investment portfolio, the Group performed a sensitivity analysis to determine the impact of change in prices of the securities that would have on the value of the investment portfolio assuming a 0.25% move in debt funds and debt securities. Based on the investment position a hypothetical 0.25% change in the fair market value of debt securities would result in a value change of +/- ₹10.28 Million as of March 31, 2025, and +/- ₹12.75 Million as of March 31, 2024. The investments in money market funds are for the purpose of liquidity management only and are held only overnight and hence not subject to any material price risk.

iii) Foreign currency risk management

In general, the Group is a net receiver of foreign currency. Accordingly, changes in exchange rates, and in particular a strengthening of the Indian Rupee, will negatively affect the Group's net sales and gross margins as expressed in Indian Rupees.

The Group may enter into foreign currency forward contracts with financial institutions to protect against foreign exchange risks associated with certain existing assets and liabilities, certain firmly committed transactions, forecasted future cash flows and net investments in foreign subsidiaries. The Group's practice is to hedge a portion of its material net foreign exchange exposures with tenors in line with the projected exposure based on future business growth. However, the Group may choose not to hedge certain foreign exchange exposures for a variety of reasons, including but not limited to accounting considerations and the prohibitive economic cost of hedging particular exposures. The Group may also not hedge 100% given the uncertainty with business projections and hence the exposure gets hedged progressively in lower amounts.

To provide a meaningful assessment of the foreign currency risk associated with the Group's foreign currency derivative positions against off balance sheet exposures and unhedged portion of on-balance sheet exposures, the Group uses a multi-currency correlated value-at-risk ("VAR") model. The VAR model uses a Monte Carlo simulation to generate thousands of random market price paths for foreign currencies against Indian rupee taking into account the correlations between them. The VAR is the expected loss in value of the exposures due to overnight movement in spot exchange rates, at 95% confidence interval. The VAR model is not intended to represent actual losses but is used as a risk estimation tool. The model assumes normal market conditions and is a historical best fit model. The overnight VAR for the Group at 95% confidence level is ₹281 Million as of March 31, 2025 and ₹174 Million as of March 31, 2024.

Actual future gains and losses associated with the Group's investment portfolio and derivative positions may differ materially from the sensitivity analyses performed as of March 31, 2025 due to the inherent limitations associated with predicting the timing and amount of changes in foreign currency exchanges rates and the Group's actual exposures and position.

iv) Credit/counter-party risk management

The principal credit risk that the Group is exposed to is non-collection of trade receivables and late collection of receivables leading to credit loss. The risk is mitigated by reviewing creditworthiness of the prospective customers prior to entering into contract and post contracting, through continuous monitoring of collections by a dedicated team.

The Group reviews trade receivables on periodic basis and makes provision for doubtful debts if collection is doubtful. The Group also calculates the expected credit loss (ECL) for non-collection and for delay in collection of receivables. The Group makes additional provision if the ECL amount is higher than the provision made for doubtful debts. In case the ECL amount is lower than the provision made for doubtful debts, the Group retains the provision made for doubtful debts without any adjustment.

The provision for doubtful debts including ECL allowances for non-collection of receivables and delay in collection, on a combined basis, was ₹189 Million as at March 31, 2025 and ₹173 Million as at March 31, 2024. The movement in allowances for doubtful accounts comprising provision for both non-collection of receivables and delay in collection is as follows:

	(₹ in Million)
	2024-25	2023-24
Opening balance of allowances for doubtful accounts	173	295
Allowances recognized (reversed)	16	(122)
Closing balance of allowances for doubtful accounts	189	173

The percentage of revenue from its top five customers is 16% for 2024-25 (14% for 2023-24).

The counter-party risk that the Group is exposed to is principally for financial instruments taken to hedge its foreign currency risks. The counter-parties are mainly banks and the Group has entered into contracts with the counterparties for all its hedge instruments.

The Group invests its surplus funds in liquid investments and mitigates the risk of counter-party failure by investing with institutions having good credit rating.

v) Liquidity risk management

The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities and by having access to funding through an adequate amount of committed credit lines.

Management regularly monitors the position of cash and cash equivalents vis-à-vis projections. Assessment of maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities including debt financing plans and maintenance of balance sheet liquidity ratios are considered while reviewing the liquidity position.

The contractual maturities of financial assets and financial liabilities is as follows:

	(₹ in Million)

(i) Fair value hierarchy

This section explains the judgements and estimates made in determining the fair values of the financial instruments that are (a) recognised and measured at fair value and (b) measured at amortised cost and for which fair values are disclosed in the financial statements. To provide an indication about the reliability of the inputs used in determining fair value, the Group has classified its financial instruments into the three levels prescribed under the accounting standard. An explanation of each level follows underneath the table.

Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 - Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

There were no transfers between the levels during the year.

The Group's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

(ii) Valuation technique used to determine fair value

Specific valuation technique used to value financial instruments include:

- the use of quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments
- the fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts and principal swap is determined using forward exchange rates at the balance sheet date.

(iii) Valuation processes

The finance department of the Group includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes, including level 3 fair values. The fair valuation of level 1 and level 2 classified assets and liabilities are readily available from the quoted prices in the open market and rates available in secondary market respectively. The valuation method applied for various financial assets and liabilities are as follows -

- Quoted price in the primary market (net asset value) considered for the fair valuation of the current investment i.e mutual funds. Gain/(loss) on fair valuation is recognised in statement of profit and loss.
- The carrying amounts of trade receivable, unbilled revenue trade payable, cash and bank balances, short term loans and advances, statutory dues/receivable, short term borrowing, employee dues are considered to be the same as their fair value owing to their short-term nature.
- The fair value of premium receivable on financial guarantee contract is derived by discounting premium receivable over the period of contract. Thereafter, the same is carried at the amount initially recognised less the cumulative amortisation of income over the period of the contract.
- The fair value of non-current security deposits are calculated by discounting future cash inflows.

(iv) Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortised cost:

The carrying amounts of all financials assets and financial liabilities are considered to be the same as their fair values owing to their short term nature.
